

David A. Rogers

David Rogers is a partner with Bricker & Eckler LLP and is the chair of its Project Finance industry group. His practice emphasizes public finance, healthcare finance, project finance, structured finance, alternative and advanced energy finance, economic development, securities law, and public debt federal and state tax matters.

He serves as bond, structuring, underwriter's, developer's or purchaser's counsel for various taxable and tax-exempt project financings, including health care, infrastructure, economic development, public facilities, advanced energy, housing, IDB, hospitals, congregate care, 501(c)(3), education and traditional issues; serves as bond counsel for several Ohio port authorities and related taxable and tax-exempt economic development bond fund programs; serves as transaction counsel for derivative, commodities swap, interest rate swap and swaption transactions; and serves as structuring counsel for project finance transactions, including securitizations, secondary market transactions and governmental synthetic leases. He has worked on many unique taxable and tax-exempt finance transactions, including: Ohio's First COPs Financing of a governmental lease within a private building; Ohio's First Tax Increment revenue bond secured by special assessments; and Ohio's First Floating rate notes/interest rate hedge/derivative refinancing of tax-exempt debt for political subdivisions.

EDUCATION & AFFILIATIONS

- The Ohio State University (B.S., summa cum laude, 1973)
- Harvard Law School (J.D., 1976)
- Adjunct member, Tax-Exempt Financing Committee of the Section of Taxation of the American Bar Association;
- Member, National Association of Bond Lawyers;
- Member, HFMA of Central Ohio; and
- Frequent speaker at seminars on bond, healthcare, TIF and special assessment financing, including Counsel of Development Finance Agencies 2007 and 2009 Annual Summits and 2007 Tax Increment Finance course.